ATTAWAYTOGO AWARD

CONGRATULATIONS MEG JONES BOYD

Generations create a strong sense of community and continuity. For 86 years, Camp Longhorn has created a legacy that has been passed down among many generations. I had the privilege of being a second-generation camper, now raising third generation campers at one of the greatest places on earth.

To begin, my father Ralph "Red Dog" Jones began attending Longhorn when he was 10 years old in 1957. Not long after his parents put him on the Dallas bus, his sister Joanne Jones and brother Philip "Black Dog" Jones began their summer fun in the hill country. The Jones boys were hooked from day one, and after their camper days were over, every summer from their junior year in high school to after college graduation, was spent as counselors. While they were six years apart, you would have Red Dog or Black Pup at Longhorn until both of them eventually had to start practicing law. While the real world called Ralph and Philip, one thing to did leave with Philip- longtime camper and counselor, Claudia Clinton. They met at camp, and while the camp marriage in a canoe at carnival was made in holy macaroni, it became official in her hometown of Burnet in July 1977.

When it came time for me to head to the hills and dales as an 8-year-old in the summer of 1986, I was lucky to have parents who believed in the benefits of attending a summer camp. My mom had attended Camp Waldemar and my parents knew either camp experience would be a positive one. My parents signed me up for Camp Longhorn in 1986 as a 4th term. After my first summer, I asked for more time and my parents moved me to 2nd term, which was my home for 3 weeks every summer through Chief year. Little did I know at the time, my 9-year experience as a camper would lead to 6 years as counselor. After my Chief year, I served 14 terms as a counselor. And like my father and uncle, after working two terms after college graduation, I left camp for the last time to enter my next chapter of the working world. What I didn't know as a young working professional, the impact camp had on me in many ways beyond the camper/counselor experiences.

What did camp teach me as a camper and counselor? Camp Longhorn is about the "F's- fun, friends, and family.

Camp Longhorn is about the fun. Anyone knows, it is fun-in-the sun the minute you begin the journey as a camper. Fun was had from activities to campfire. And, as we all know, every year you kept coming back, new and different activities were added. You know the traditions, the puns, and the inventions are what make Camp

Longhorn unique. It is a place that took you out of your comfort zone to try new skills and activities. While the fun was there every day, Camp Longhorn did teach me to be independent, work on manners, and show respect, not only to one another, but to the traditions that were established when Camp Longhorn began. Camp Longhorn is about the friends. Friendships form in the most unexpected ways—over shared experiences, cabin time, activities, campfire, church mountain, and more. You might arrive as strangers, but within days, you're swapping outfits for dance night, sharing funny stories, and feeling like you've known your cabinmates forever. Camp friends are special because they see you at your messiest and most honest—no phones, no filters, just real connection. Even if you only have two to three weeks together, those friendships feel big, like something you'll carry with you long after the campfires burn out. Relationships are very important to me and I found some of the closest ones at Camp Longhorn. At age 14, I met one of my best friends and lifelong partner of fun, Julie Storey Cothorn. Together, Camp Longhorn formed us and shaped us into what it meant to be a friend. Julie became my college roommate all through college and even after college in Dallas before she married Rob. Friendship is built on trust, kindness, and shared experiences that create a bond stronger than words. Julie and I to this day, travel with our families and she and Rob are the god parents to one of my children. As campers and then later as counselors, camp introduced me to the love of tradition, meaningful relationships, and to invest in others. I had many counselors who invested in me, Meredith Willingham Mabus, Kelly Blaylock Morton, Laura Barrow Thomason, and Hailey Ehtridge Bechtol to name a few. I looked up to many who came before me and knew that I wanted to lead like they led. Camp Longhorn creates friendships that are for a lifetime. It's not about how often you see each other, but how deeply you care and nurture those friendships.

Camp Longhorn is all about family. We can all say that the Robertson family has invested in each camper and counselor in some way. Pat and Tex began with a dream to build an environment that would foster unique experiences and create lifelong friendships. Camp Longhorn isn't just a place—it's a legacy. Passed down through generations of the same family, it carries with it the spirit of those who built it, led it, and loved it. From the handwritten signs to the recipes served in the chow hall, everything feels personal and rooted in tradition. You can sense the care in the way campers are welcomed, as if they're part of the extended family. At a time when so many places feel temporary or commercial, a family-run camp stands out as something rare and a lasting place where values are lived out, memories are made, and the past gently shapes the present. I look at the influence Girls Camp Directors, Carol and Bill Robertson had on my life. They become mentors who guided and inspired me. Their leadership goes beyond managing schedules; they model integrity in everything they do. Carol and Bill saw potential in me and others, and created a space where everyone grew in confidence. No matter when and for how long you attended Camp Longhorn, you have a family for life.

Looking back, I see how camp molded me into who I am today. Camp Longhorn taught me the value of someone's name. Learn people's names. Invest in people's lives. Camp taught the value of hard work. I have made a career in building relationships and friendships. My journey in fundraising and friendraising began in 2001 in the emotionally powerful environment of a children's hospital, where every dollar raised directly supported families receiving care. It taught me how to connect people to purpose and how to tell stories that move hearts and inspire action. Over time, I realized that what drew me in wasn't just the mission—it was building relationships, fostering community, and creating long-term impact. That's what led me to the world of education in 2020. The shift to education felt natural because both fields are rooted in care, communication, and making a difference in people's lives. Now, as a nonprofit Executive Director of an education foundation, I carry those same skills and values with me. I see education as another form of transformation, and I'm committed to advancing opportunities for teachers and students by building strong partnerships, deepening engagement, and championing a mission that shapes future generations.

Do you think Camp Longhorn shaped me to go into a career based upon relationships and choosing places of employment rooted with a deep mission filled with tradition? 110% it did. My husband Chris and I are the proud parents of two boys, Charles, age 14 and William, age 12. Charles and William are the third generation to be walking the shores of Inks Lake and started when they were 8. Attending 2nd term Inks Lake, Charles will be a 7th year camper and William a 5th year camper when summer 2025 arrives. Camp Longhorn was a gift given to me and now Chris and I are able to give it to our children. Camp Longhorn is more than just a place—it is a family. The lessons I learned, the people I met, and the memories I made continue to shape my every day, just like your own family does. And that, more than anything, is the true gift.

The Greatest Christmas Present EVER by Andrea Wurmstein

I had no clue when I offered to write an article for LUMNews, how challenging it would be for me. I love writing and I have memories upon memories upon memories from my 12 years at what is now known as Indian Springs (then called "Ranch Branch") so those were not an issue. What has been an issue is trying to figure out exactly how to write the article so it flowed and what to include and what to leave out. If I were to include everything on the "brainstorm list" that I made, it would probably take up the entire Spring Edition and I know Kim would not want that and you wouldn't want to read that. It probably doesn't help that I have an eidetic memory so I can remember A LOT (although not nearly as much as I could 10 years ago!). It's crazy to think that although it has been 30 years since I spent my summers there, not a single summer goes by where I don't reminisce about camp and wish I was going back. Trying to explain Camp Longhorn to those who haven't been, and give camp the real justice it deserves, is extremely difficult for others to understand. Nonetheless, for me, Camp Longhorn had such a deep, personal impact on me that for several years I tossed around the idea of opening my own summer camp that combined my love for the whole summer camp experience with my adult life as both a parent (with children who suffer from a multiple health conditions like asthma, POTS, ADHD, anxiety, depression, and Ehler's Danlos Syndrome and Celiac Disease, to name a few) and professional (as a school counselor). I was going to create a summer camp so those kids had a safe space to go to deal with trauma, mental health issues and lifetime health diagnoses. While that dream never came to fruition, I knew that even having such a dream would not have even happened if it weren't for those 12 amazing summers. Now comes my story...

The first time I ever heard the words Camp Longhorn was in December of 1982. My cousins (MICHAEL JENKINS and JACE JENKINS) and I would go to Archer City, Texas, every Christmas to celebrate the holidays with our grandparents. My cousins are one year older and two months older than me, respectively. They were the closest thing I had to siblings so I always looked forward to times when we could all be together. As we were opening our presents on Christmas morning, each of us got an envelope from our grandparents. On the inside was a Camp Longhorn flyer and a note that said we were all 3 signed up to attend camp the following summer. I remember thinking I really had no clue what that meant or if I wanted to know, but I guess I would be going to Burnet for 2 weeks in August. Man am I glad I went (and went and went)!! As August 1983 rolled around, my parents drove me to Austin (30 minutes from my hometown of Round Rock, Texas), dropped me off at a big bus and from there I headed to Camp Longhorn with a bunch of strangers and a couple of camp counselors who were VERY happy, handed out friend chicken and asked us questions for merits. While I had no clue at the time, this tradition became the first in a line of thousands of wonderful memories of Camp Longhorn. The next thing that happened, and another great yearly memory was entering camp and seeing all of the creative, funny signs you see as you make the drive in. Then, we stepped off the bus and our cabin name were yelled out and our counselors came running for us as if they were coming to grab little sisters. That never got old, no matter how old I got. Anyway, in 1983, I was 8 years old, and I was a PONY for the inaugural year for 4th term at Camp Longhorn "Ranch Branch". Because it was the first year of 4th term, there were only 5 cabins, with ZEBRA cabin being the "oldest". Not only was I fortunate to be part of the first summer for 4th term at Ranch, I also went to camp during Camp Longhorn's 50th anniversary and Indian Springs' 20th year.

Being at camp as a PONY, I was amazed that I had cabinmates from other states and even other countries! In fact, the first friend I made at camp was a girl named YANINA NAVARRO. She was from Mexico, and we clicked right away. Unfortunately for me, Yanina only went to camp for 2 years and the two of us lost touch. Besides YANINA I had cabinmates from Arizona, and London, England. On top of just loving pretty much every new experience at camp, I also met a second cousin who was part of my cousin JACE's Rattlesnake cabin. There aren't many places where you go and meet a family member unplanned. Anyway, the 2 weeks at camp seemed to fly by and I was shocked to find myself sad to be going home to my parents and the life I had before Camp Longhorn. Imagine my surprise to discover an early bird and a camp annual in my mail in the fall of 1983. And even as the years progressed and I knew those things would be coming at some point, my excitement and anticipation for them never changed!

With 4th term began at Indian Springs in 1983, our total number of cabins increased each summer in and in 1986 we finally made it all the way to CHIEFS. While I was the lone female to begin as a 4th term PONY in its inaugural year and attend all 9 years as a camper, I needed (and found) some cabinmates that became friends along the way. Thankfully, 3 of those people joined me in my second year, as a PALOMINO. I can't imagine my camp experience without STACY KASLINE, NANCY NIEWMANN WEEKS and JONNA HARCROW ANDERSON. LARA FITCH, MOLLY LAFUZE, LEELA LANDRESS and ANGIE SIMPSON are just a few of those friends who became part of my Camp Longhorn experience. One of the things that is so special about Camp Longhorn is having a group of girls that (generally) stay together from the first day until the last one. It is a group that begins as strangers and turns into friends and reconnecting with them every summer makes the return to Burnet, Texas, so special. I also gained friends from other cabins too, friends like JAMIE OLIVER.

Thinking back on my 12 years at camp, I remember noticing how many family members were there attending at the same time. I especially noticed the many sets of sisters and being so jealous because they were making amazing memories that they would share at their home for years and years to come. Being an only child, I knew I would never have that experience. I guess maybe that is why I loved "Big-Lil Sis" so very much. I was able to have someone that I could connect with about camp things during our time there. While I loved all of the connections I made through Big-Lil, two of the littles that I had a great relationship with during our time with another, but we also stayed connected in following years were CATY CUNNINGHAM and MOLLY RUSSELL. I found that Camp Longhorn some people at Camp Longhorn had some of the BEST names I have ever heard! There was cool first names that I never knew were names and some awesome names where the first and last names rhymed with one another! I am sure that everyone has counselors who were impactful in their camp experience. Some of the counselors who I associate with being a constant at camp were LIZ MARSH, BETH MONETTE, KRISTIN MCNEAL, LACIE MORRISON, AMY SCOTT and PAIGE INGEBRITSON. Paige became a mainstay at HOSS once KELLY HALE moved on to greener pastures. In addition to these amazing women, some counselors that really made my camp experience were KARIN SCOTT, AMY SEARCY and ASHLEY

BALCH. And if you were ever a Marine or Marina at camp, you remember your Generals. Ours were SHARON INNIS and GIANCARLO NISEMBLAT.

Camp Longhorn was always perfect for me, in so many ways, but especially because I love the water. I think I may have been a fish in a former life. I was able to win events at Siesta Swim two different years (I.M. in Division I as a PONY and free in Division II as a ZEBRA) and I was able to place in the top 15 of the mile swim in four of my eight years swimming it. (I didn't swim during my WRANGLER year because I got the infamous swimmer's ear. I guess the alcohol drops after each water activity didn't work.) I also loved getting to skin dive (which I learned was snorkeling) and later, scuba. In fact, after learning about those activities at camp and falling in love with them, I was snorkeling every chance I could and even got Scuba Certified. It was a dream when I became a camp counselor that I was put in charge of the scuba program. While I only received one award during awards night (Cheer award in my UNICORN year), I loved getting the certificates where it recognized (circled) all the activities that I excelled in that year. That gave me such a sense of accomplishment! I also felt such a huge sense of accomplishment when I was recognized as a "Big Head Stockholder" during my WRANGLER (1005) and CHIEF (1458) years. I'll never forget using my merits at the end of my Chief year to buy my own jambox, complete with CD player on top! Other ways I felt accomplished through camp (which was one of the many things I learned at CLH) were making campfire lighter twice, winning "Name Tha" as second year camper, being able to make a merit bounce off of my made bed (which was both personal satisfaction but also feeling like I contributed to my cabin winning cabin of the day) and being Officer of the Day where I was responsible for all of my cabinmates' location for every activity.

While it would take too long to relive every great memory I have from my time at Camp Longhorn, some of the other highlights for me as a camper were learning all of the camp songs (too many to list), singing taps at the end of campfire, church mountain, riding to Inks Lake on the Sunshine Bus, getting "married" at carnival nights (where having multiple husbands was "legal"), shaving cream fights, watching movies at Nan & Bobby's during naptime, Chiefs overnight at Inks, the Backwards Dance on dance nights, watching Counselor skits like "Another One Bites the Dust" and "Chubby Bunny" and camper skits where we worked in pairs to appear as one to do things like exercising to music and putting on makeup, and meeting up with cabinmates (from my cabin and from the boys cabin of the same age) at Pizza Hut immediately following V-Day. Some things that are memorable, but maybe not in the best way, are getting sprayed in the face when I turned Old Faithful the wrong direction, doing the swim test in the pool (as a teenager) and losing my swimsuit top as I dove in which then resulted in me losing both of my contacts as I opened my eyes to pull it up, and seeming to having an unofficial reserved space in the Pit Stop. As much as I hated it, I seemed to have something healthy related happen pretty much every summer. Whether it was needing to eat raisins because I hadn't "checked" in more than 3 days (almost every year), an ear infection (majority of summers), some sort of virus, or getting a splinter in my eye that took hours and hours to locate (don't ask how), I seemed to find myself connecting with the wonderful ladies of the Pit Stop all too frequently. The best story of a visit to the Pit Stop has to be from my CHIEF year. Although I attended Ranch/Indian Springs every year, I didn't exactly love "hoss". For several years in a row, I ended up with a horse that either bucked while still in the corral or along a trail. So, as a CHIEF, knowing that we would be part of the "Hoss Show" was than less than ideal for me. I was the person on the horse waiting for our number to be rolled as STACY KASLINE was guiding our horse. As we sat there waiting for the next roll of the dice, the horse right next to us turned his head to the right and just took a bite of my left thigh. I was in shock but tried not to make a big deal of it at the time. When we got back to our cabin after the show, I pulled my jeans (which were perfectly intact) down to find a HUGE open mouth bite mark over 1/2 of my thigh. It broke the skin slightly in a few places and left me with a lovely large oval bruise! While I was sad when my time as a camper was over, I was very excited to become a counselor! My first year I was scheduled to be a counselor at my "home term" but imagine my excitement when Nan called about a week or so before 3rd term was starting to ask if I wanted to come work it. I didn't hesitate to say yes even though I had started my first job, at a movie theater, just a few weeks earlier. Being a counselor was even better than I expected it to be. I made new friends, learned new things, and made memories that far exceeded my expectations. I gained friends like KRISTI RABEL JONES, KAYLA GRIFFITH TOWLE, LORI SOLOMON TURNER, KERRI WARING, and KIMMI MCMINN. After camp days were over, KAYLA and I went through Rush together at Texas Tech, LORI ended up being my oldest daughter's 8th grade Geometry teacher (where they had class BEFORE school because there wasn't enough time to fit the class into the school day), and I never imagined, but I have a daughter named Kimberly who goes by Kimmie!. As a "head" counselor I had great counselors in my cabin like KATY KRIPS NELSON and GINGER GRINSFELDER. I also had some (many) memorable campers in my cabins. KATE SICKLE SOKOLOSKY is someone that I still connect with from time to time thanks to Facebook. I also had the opportunity to be a cabin counselor for BARBARA BUSH when she was a BRONCO. She was a great camper and was friends with everyone. I will never forget one day after mail call BARBARA mentioned to the cabin that she got a letter from her grandfather (the recently retired President George H.W. Bush). When she told the cabin that the letter was about what they were going to do later in the summer at their Ranch, all her cabin friends wanted to see the letter. Barbara's reaction was great- she did not understand the big deal and said it was "just a letter from my grandfather". I loved seeing Camp Longhorn through the campers' eyes and all the excitement they had about so many different things. Also as a counselor I remember learning what PITA meant (probably a LOT later than most). I loved being a counselor at camp but also "working for Tex". I loved being able to go on the 4th year trip alongside Inks Lake. I loved making the certificates for awards night and I loved winning "Name Tha" 3 times as a counselor.

To end my (already way too long) article, I thought I would mention the valuable lessons and values that I learned at Camp Longhorn. I am sure that there are so many more that I have failed to mention, and I am sure that I will later kick myself for failing to mention, but camp taught me the importance of following the Golden Rule every day and being a good friend. It taught me how to being in a cabin meant being a part of a team and the importance of contributing to the good of the cabin, having discipline by doing daily chores in the cabin and KP duty and not slamming the door (something my husband and I made a rule in our own house), and that "everybody is somebody at Camp Longhorn". I know that it no how much time passes, as long as I have a memory, I will continue to have wonderful memories of my time at Camp Longhorn- the people, the activities and the experiences (Some that today's campers will never have like sweating during naptime because we didn't have ceiling fans and not being able to wear sandals unless it was for FUNTASTICS). Even though I had no clue at the time, my grandparents gave me the greatest Christmas gift ever back in 1982, and it was a gift that gave again, again, and again. Thank you, TEX, and thank you CAMP LONGHORN!!

...THANK YOU, Andrea, for sharing your love and memories of Camp Longhorn!

ROBERT KEVIN DOLAN

Robert Kevin Dolan, known to most as Kevin, passed away on March 13, at age 75, leaving behind a lifetime of love, laughter, and unwavering devotion to family.

Kevin found a second home at Camp Longhorn in Burnet, Texas, first as a camper in 1963 and later as a beloved counselor for eight years and 22 terms. A true Camp Longhorn legend, he influenced generations with his humor, energy, and larger-than-life spirit. From swim bay antics to counselor campfire skits, his stories were unforgettable, and his pranks were unmatched. Voted "Favorite Counselor," he never missed an opportunity to make someone smile.

Kevin served as a medic in Hawaii, an experience that deepened his compassion and reinforced his readiness to step up when needed.

After earning his degree, Kevin married Katherine Skelley Dolan, and together they raised two incredible daughters, Katherine Dolan Kinney (Sean) and Casey Dolan Beck (Jesse), whom he lovingly called "Paris and Nicole." He was the ultimate "girl dad"-not because he could braid hair (he absolutely couldn't), but because he taught his daughters to stand tall, speak up, and know their worth. He had a gift for seeing the good in people, always reminding his girls, "That doesn't make them a bad person." He was their loudest cheerleader, especially at sporting events, and was adored by his 20 nieces and nephews, as well as many great-nieces and nephews. Though not the most patient man, he more than made up for it with kindness, generosity, and a deep sense of duty to his family.

After retiring, he settled into Fayetteville to be closer to his girls, but his greatest joy came in becoming "Pops" to his grandchildren. Betty Ruth (6), Casey and Jesse's oldest, loved playing "Cinderella" with him so much that even her preschool teachers called him "Pops." His grandsons, Sheppard (3) and Dolan (2), believed he hung the moon-partly because he told them he did.

Kevin lived with a big heart, a quick wit, and a fierce love for his family and friends. He never lost at Onze, the family's favorite card game, and he never hesitated to hit the dance floor. He will be missed beyond measure, but his legacy-of love, strength, and a touch of stubbornness-will live on in the family and friends lucky enough to know him.

RAUL AGUIRRE was one of Camp Longhorn's long-time staff members. Raul began working at CLH Indian Springs in the 1970's, eventually transferring over to CLH Inks Lake, and worked there until his retirement in 2006.

Several of his children continue to work at CLH today.

GARDNER (G.P.) PARKER

It is with great sadness that we bring you the news of the passing of Camp Longhorn legend G.P. (Gardner) Parker.

His love for Camp Longhorn started in 1951 and continued for the rest of his life. He was an integral part of what makes Camp Longhorn so special for generations. As a counselor and director in the 60's he was titled social director for the counselors and established the popular Camp Longhorn Marine program for 2nd year Sea Hawks. Most campers will tell you the Marine/Marina year is their favorite CLH experience. In 1989 after a surprise party, he organized for Tex and Pat celebrating 50 years of Camp and their marriage, he established what is now CLASP (Camp Longhorn Alumni and Special Parents). His expertise in business and his love for CLH has helped us thrive through the years as a valuable member of the Camp Longhorn Board of Managers. His contributions, dedication and loyalty to the Camp Longhorn family are numerous and his bigger than life persona will always be remembered. We are sure that Tex would shout from the top of Church Mountain "ATTAWAYTOGO God and G.P. we love you"!
